

Application form for requesting exchange of Irish Pound Banknotes (including damaged Irish Pound Banknotes)

Please read the instructions on page 1 and ensure the declaration is signed on page 2 to avoid delays in processing. Use BLOCK CAPITALS throughout.

1. This submission form should be used for Irish pound banknotes only. Please complete the requested information sections at pages 3, 4, 5 and 6 and ensure the original form is enclosed. Photocopies will not be accepted.
2. Please include all banknote pieces, even the smallest of pieces. Heavily mutilated banknotes should be handled as little as possible and carefully packaged to prevent further damage.
3. You are required to contact the Central Bank of Ireland in advance of submitting an application if the banknotes have been exposed to chemicals or hazardous materials (via currencyservices@centralbank.ie). You are required to provide details of the nature of the substance to which the banknotes have been exposed and to provide a completed health and safety assessment by a relevant authority if they pose a potential threat to health and safety.
4. To ensure proper processing of the application, you are required to provide an explanation of the source of the banknotes and to submit supporting documentation.
5. You are also required to provide a detailed explanation of the cause of any damage and provide evidence to support that explanation, and an explanation of the whereabouts of any missing parts where only part of a banknote is being presented for exchange.
6. Where 50% or less of a banknote is presented, the Central Bank of Ireland will not exchange the banknote unless evidence can be provided that the remainder of the banknote has been destroyed.
7. Failure to complete the form correctly or to submit supporting documentation will result in delay in processing your submission.
8. Submissions accepted for exchange, may be assessed, by the national authorities in terms of Anti- Money Laundering, Revenue and Criminality and may take some time to complete. Exchanges are governed by Section 121 of the Central Bank Act, 1989. If the Bank determines that it has grounds to refuse to exchange, the Bank may withhold and/or destroy the banknotes in line with the Central Bank Act, 1989.
9. Submissions above a certain value threshold, set by the Central Bank of Ireland from time to time, may also be referred by the Central Bank of Ireland to relevant competent authorities.
10. For security and operational reasons, submissions which are eligible for exchange will be paid by way of electronic transfer.
11. The European Council Regulation (EC) No 2866/98 irrevocably fixes the conversion rate at €1 = IR£0.787564.
12. The Central Bank may process personal data provided by you in order to fulfil its statutory functions or to facilitate its business operations. Any personal data will be processed in accordance with the requirements of data protection legislation. Any queries concerning the processing of personal data by the Central Bank may be directed to dataprotection@centralbank.ie. A copy of the Central Bank's Data Protection Notice is available on the Central Bank website www.centralbank.ie.

The provision of detailed information, supporting documentation and detailed explanations at the time of submission of an application will assist the Central Bank of Ireland to process your application as expeditiously as possible. Please note that the Central Bank of Ireland may require further explanations, information or evidence to be submitted in support of an application for exchange of Irish banknotes to enable it to perform its functions.
